About this Location:

Bronxville, nestled in southern Westchester County, exudes the allure of a charming village renowned for its tight-knit neighborhoods, verdant lawns, and elegant residences. It caters to individuals yearning for the warmth of a close community and a lively communal ambiance. The village boasts an array of conveniences, from quaint eateries and specialty food emporiums to art galleries, antique boutiques, and chic retail stores. Its inhabitants ardently support local educational institutions, libraries, and enterprises, fostering a cohesive community fabric.

Despite its proximity to the bustling metropolis of New York City, Bronxville retains an unmistakable small-town allure. Residents enjoy access to recreational amenities such as tennis and paddle tennis facilities, alongside cultural attractions like the Bronxville Public Library, renowned for its literary and musical events. Steeped in a rich history that traces back to the 1600s, Bronxville has blossomed into a quintessential suburban gem. Its enduring charm, distinctive character, and historical significance render it a coveted destination for both living and visiting.

The Village of Bronxville provides an array of recreational pursuits suitable for individuals of all ages. Its centrally located facilities offer opportunities for organized play and lessons in tennis and paddle tennis catering to every skill level.

Parks and green spaces abound, including Dogwood Park, Maltby Park, the Bronx River Reservation with its serene duck pond and sprawling meadow, Bicentennial Park, and Sagamore Park.

Local events enrich the community calendar, ranging from the weekly Farmers Market held every Saturday from May to November to library-sponsored events, Columbus Day celebrations, children's library events, Memorial Day parades, sidewalk sales, St. Patrick's Day festivities, summer outdoor concerts, and Take Back Day, dedicated to the mindful disposal of electronic waste.
